Our simple tool gives you control over how you receive text and email messages. Super intelligent, Toppako is your personal tone filter, protecting you from receiving and sending hurtful messages.

Perfectly suited for separating couples, coparenting, difficult family, friend or business relations, and bullying situations.

ANNIE'S STORY

Lots of conversations with friends led me to try Toppako – a communication app. They had witnessed the hurt and upset I was experiencing from texts or emails from my ex-husband. It was emotionally draining.

Toppako has changed everything. It has given me control over how he and I communicate.

I now have the confidence to influence and direct the ways in which we communicate and what level of language is acceptable to me from my ex-husband via a filtering system. Having access to setting time frames for when he contacts me and how – via text or email, access to a calendar to make him aware of events for the children and I have a record of all communication between us.

I cannot thank Toppako enough for creating a positive, accessible and yet simple way to communicate.
